LABORATORY ALLIANCE ADDS JAYNE HEALEY, M.D.
TO CONSULTING STAFF

Laboratory Alliance of Central New York has named Jayne Healey, MD to the position of Consulting Pathologist. Her primary responsibility will be assisting Michael R. O'Leary, MD, the Corporate Medical Director, in overseeing the testing performed at the company's Operation Center in Electronics Business Park in Liverpool.

Dr. Healey spent several years performing research in the field of molecular virology before receiving her medical degree at SUNY Upstate Medical University. Following graduation, she remained at SUNY Upstate Medical University and completed an internship in Emergency Medicine. She then went on to complete a residency in Clinical Pathology and a fellowship in Hematopathology, also at SUNY Upstate Medical University. Dr. Healey has a number of publications to her credit in various virology, microbiology and oncology journals.

Dr. Healey is a Diplomate of the American Board of Pathology and certified in Clinical Pathology. She is certified by the New York State Department of Health for Laboratory Directorship and is a Fellow in the American Society for Clinical Pathology. She is a member of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists, American Medical Association, College of American Pathologists, Association for Molecular Pathology, and the Medical Society of the State of New York. Dr. Healey resides in Liverpool with her husband, Patrick T. Healey, MD, an anesthesiologist at St. Joseph's Hospital, and their four children.

Laboratory Alliance is jointly owned by Community General Hospital of Greater Syracuse, Crouse Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center. The laboratory services the area's three hospitals, regional hospitals and non-hospital clients including long term care facilities and physician offices in central and upstate New York.

Laboratory Alliance generates more than $45 million in annual revenue, performs over 7.8 million tests annually, employs over 415 people and operates 13 Patient Service Centers in Onondaga, Madison & Oswego counties. Due to the growth of the company, it expanded its presence in Syracuse in early 2006 by opening its corporate offices at 1304 Buckley Road.
